

What did you guys do with my car? You've replaced it with this amazing, tight, well handling and fast machine.... Drove 60ish miles today. Rear end settled a bit as I took it out solo on some very twisty roads before taking a friend out and then the family. Just amazing.

Needs the correct tires and a new exhaust but no drips underneath, although I did hear a ticking sound on a sharp left hand turn, almost like a fan hitting against a radiator lightly. Still vibrates a little at 90, but I imagine that might be the wheel balancing and hopefully not the driveshaft.

I suppose we should replace trans mounts next spring, but overall thoroughly impressed with the car. My son can now pronounce Mercedes and my wife absolutely loves it. One question: the ticking noise in the engine at idle is quite loud-is this from valve adjustment? Thanks again for all of your hard work!
